FOREWORD

We have now come to the end of some of our most pleasant and rewarding years—those spent in school; but we must not look upon the completion of these years as merely an ending. In reality, it marks the beginning of a new way of life. In this day of automation and rockets to the moon, we have much to look forward to and much to work for.

Ever since we first entered Allegheny as 10B's, we have been working toward the time when we would finish our schooling and enter the life for which we have been preparing. Now we have attained that goal; and if we have done our best during our school years, and continue to do everything to the best of our ability, we can look forward to a successful life, no matter what field we may choose.

Dedicated to

The historic Carnegie library towers above Old Allegheny.

The torpedo tube from the famous battleship Maine is now found in West Park.

A monument presented to the city of Pittsburgh by the Fraternal Order of Eagles. It now stands silhouetted against Allegheny High School.

the City of Allegheny

We dedicate our book to this area, which was a thriving metropolis 50 years ago. The old independent Allegheny City had recently been incorporated into a rapidly growing Pittsburgh. At that time, Allegheny High School was at the height of its glory as the only high school in the north side area.

The neighborhood surrounding the high school was quite different from that of today. The familiar West Park was then a place of beauty. The elite of the city, the inhabitants of the fabled "Millionaires' Row" on Ridge Avenue, made it a popular place for socializing on warm sunny days. The present aviary and rose garden mark the site of the old Phipp's Conservatory which had, in turn, replaced a prison that once housed Confederate soldiers. Where the playing field now stands was a lake, Lake Elizabeth; and boating was a popular sport of the local people. The monument which stands majestically behind the little league backstop then stood atop the hill where the football field is located. Monument Hill it was called then, and now.

Closer to the school was the Presbyterian Hospital, now Divine Providence Hospital; and where the auditorium now stands was the home for nurses in training.

The Carnegie Library and Music Hall, a gift to the city of Pittsburgh's most famous citizen, faced the old Allegheny police station, now the site of the Buhl Planetarium. As its other neighbor, the library had and still has the North Side Market House, where many of the citizens do their buying. In the remaining corner of this historic intersection there was another market — a hay market for horses. Now it is filled with cherry blossom trees and benches for the passers-by.

Now the neighborhood surrounding Allegheny is preparing for another change. The urban renewal planned for this area is tremendous. If present plans are carried out, the North Side has a bright future. In that future Allegheny High School will play an important part as it has in the past.

Bronze deer has been a long time resident of West Park.

Monument which was once on Monument Hill.

The Buhl Planetarium has long been a North Side tourist attraction.

FACULTY

From the time we enter Allegheny as 10B's until we graduate, our faculty is always here to help and guide us. They teach us and help us form proper study habits so that learning, not only now but in later life, will be easier for us. Our faculty not only teaches us, but they are always willing to devote their time to many other activities, such as sponsoring dances, directing plays and assemblies, and conducting the many activities that go on in the school. Without them, our school would not be the smoothly functioning place that it is. They help us make the many decisions that will be so important to us in the future. Choices of careers and schools in which to further our education would not be so easily made without the assistance our teachers give us. They aid us in deciding what we will do after graduation, and they show us how we can best attain our goals. Our faculty members constantly try to preserve the high ideals and traditions of Allegheny and pass them on to each new class. We will probably look back someday on our school days and remember the teachers who have played a great part in the forming of our lives, and we should all be grateful for the fine job they are doing.

Dr. Teal-Principal

To the Graduates of 1962:

As you leave Allegheny High School with a sense of reluctance, I hope—you take with you the sincere wishes of the faculty and the administration for a happy and successful adult life. During your three years here, our primary purpose has been to prepare you to become good citizens in our society. We have endeavored to reach this goal through both curricular and extracurricular activities. This yearbook is a record of those activities during the last year of your high school life. On some future day, as you look through it and recall the names, faces, and events recorded here, I trust that all the worthwhile dreams and aspirations that you experience today will be the realities of that later day.

Sincerely,
HAL C. TEAL

Administration

Mr. Rockwell-Vice-Principal

My congratulations to the graduates of 1962. May the lessons you have learned and the friendships you have made be an unlimited source of inspiration throughout your lives.

It is hoped that you leave Allegheny High School with a sense of achievement. In retrospect, they may seem small; but you have achieved many things during your school years. You have mastered the tools of learning, and have had practice in many of the activities in which you will engage in the future.

The social activities of your school days have provided many opportunities to experience and practice the most important art of meeting, knowing, and getting along with people. You have learned that others have all the emotions which you experience and that each reacts differently in any given situation. It is the give and take in life which makes living and working together worthwhile.

Miss McKeone-Counselor

As counselor at Allegheny High School, Miss McKeone has a varied and busy schedule. When we first entered Allegheny as 10 B's, Miss McKeone arranged an orientation program to acquaint us with our teachers and school. Since then, we have had many meetings with her. She interviews pupils in regard to schedules and future plans, the latter including assistance in job placement if we intend to work after graduation. She also acquaints us with scholarships available for our future education. To help determine what our life work will be, Miss McKeone has given us achievement tests and aptitude tests. If we decide that we would like to visit a college or a school of nursing, she arranges the various field trips. Miss McKeone works hard to arrange our schedules and place us in the proper classes so that we might make the most of our education.

Mr. Stewart-Activities Director

Mr. Stewart plans and directs many activities for Allegheny students so that our time in school is well balanced between classroom work and enjoyable, interesting activities.

At the beginning of each semester he provides us with a list of many clubs from which to choose. After we have made our selection, he has the task of scheduling us to the appropriate club.

Throughout the school year he arranges interesting assembly programs for us to attend. Also, he is in charge of making preparations for the school dances, including the Junior and Senior Proms.

When it is time to make the various plans for the annual Variety Show, Mr. Stewart is right there to help us. Besides all of this, he has the duties and responsibilities of being the sponsor of the Student Council and director of the Distributive Education classes.

Allegheny's cafeteria staff, janitorial staff, and swimming matrons deserve our vote of thanks, as they helped to maintain a feeling of well being among Allegheny Indians. Who can forget coming to school, and knowing that soon we would be eating a nourishing lunch? These ladies worked hard in planning and preparing our lunches. Our swimming matrons kept our pool and suits clean and ready for use. They were always there, ready to help in any way they could. Last, but not least, the janitorial staff kept the building bright and clean. Their services proved invaluable, as they kept Allegheny facilities working smoothly and efficiently through the year. These people contributed greatly to the well being of our school and its students.

SENIORS

In 1959, we arrived at Allegheny as the new group of sophomores or 10B's; and from that time, we prepared ourselves for becoming seniors. We strived to reach that envied goal, and each semester we worked our way closer to achieving it. Finally, on Senior Day, our turn came to move to the front of the auditorium. At last we were the leaders of the school.

The senior students were always envied for being the most privileged in the school. Little did we realize, when we were 10B's, that the greatest responsibilities of our school years came with the title of "Senior." As we came closer to our goal, we found that it was our duty to set examples for the underclassmen so that Allegheny could maintain the high ideals and traditions that have been passed to us from the classes that preceded us.

Our three years at Allegheny were full and rewarding. We studied and worked hard but found time to participate in the many activities offered to us. The Senior Day when we saw our last assembly and then marched from the auditorium, our Senior Prom, and our commencement program will long remain in our memories as the highlights of our senior year.

Although we have left some of our original classmates along the wayside, we know that those of us who have faced the struggle to come this far can go on facing our future; and we can look forward to success.

January Hall of Fame

EDWARD BLYSHAK

"Ed" is one of the most active boys in the Senior A Class. His dependability is shown in his many activities. He is president of the Senior A Class and serves on the yearbook staff. Because of his high scholastic standing, he was chosen for National Honor Society in his junior year. During his senior year he was elected president of the society. He also represented his class on the Junior and Senior Prom committees. Well liked by everybody, Ed built a fine reputation during his three years at Allegheny. He will long be remembered for his friendliness and willingness to serve.

LINDA HUY

Pretty, popular and dependable Linda is secretary of the Senior A Class. Because of her honor standing at all times, she is a member of the National Honor Society. She is also active in the Social Dancing And Office Practice clubs. Her eagerness to serve her school is shown by the times she devotes to the yearbook and Wah Hoo staffs. Because of her ability to get things done quickly and thoroughly, she has held the offices of secretary, Wah Hoo representative, and stamp salesman in her homeroom. Linda's ability to succeed is the quality for which she will be best remembered.

VIRGINIA CURINGTON

Because of her singing talent, Virginia will always remain in our minds as an active participant in the variety shows, the robed choir, and any benefit show where volunteer performers were needed. Her ability to serve her class was shown when she became Wah Hoo Representative of her homeroom. She gained many friends at Allegheny by participating in girls' intramural sports. Because of her ability to get things done, serve her school, and maintain a high scholastic standing, Virginia's greatest honor came in 12B by being elected to the National Honor Society.

PATRICIA CROOKS

Friendly Pat carried a difficult schedule and worked hard. She was one of the few Allegheny girls fortunate enough to take Automation, which she lists as her favorite subject. In addition to her busy academic schedule, industrious Pat found time to be of service to her school. She served on the Wah Hoo and yearbook staffs, was an Usherette, and was a popular member of the Social Dancing Club. As a member of the Service Squad, she gave able assistance to the faculty. Pat will long be remembered for her every-ready smile, and her willingness to help others.

January Hall of Fame

CHRIS LOZOS

Glancing through the Wah Hoo, you see the fine work that Chris has done as art editor. His ambition and drive were put to use as co-editor of the yearbook. Chris was elected as a Wah Hoo representative of his homeroom, and in his 12-A semester, president. In spite of all the time he devotes to the Wah Hoo and yearbook, Chris is a member of the Art Club, the Swimming Club, and Allegheny's swimming team. These activities and his outstanding grades won him National Honor Society membership. His place in the Hall of Fame is proof of Chris's popularity among his classmates.

EILEEN SABOLOVIC

As head majorette, high-stepping, fast-twirling Eileen lead the majorettes in many routines that were favorably received by the student body. Her sense of leadership made her a valuable member of all the activities in which she participated. A popular member of the Social Dancing Club, she made many new friends. Because of her many fine qualities, Eileen's induction into the National Honor Society came as no surprise to those who knew her. She will long be remembered by her classmates for her splendid personality, and ever-present sense of humor.

KATHLEEN SCHOEPPNER

During her three years at Allegheny, Kitty participated in many activities. President of her homeroom for 2½ years, she was naturally a member of the Student Council. She was also a member of the yearbook staff, vice-president of the Senior A Class, and a member of the Social Dancing Club. ## SANDRA LEE BAKUNAS

Sandy will always be remembered for her warm smile and friendly "hello." Active in all phases of school life, Sandy is known for her dependability. She carries out all her assignments quickly and thoroughly. By never allowing her extra-curricular activities to interfere with her studies, she maintained constant honor roll standing. Capable yearbook editor, enthusiastic co-captain of the drill team, and hard-working business manager of the Wah Hoo, Sandy was justly rewarded with membership in the National Honor Society. Her industry and competence are sure to bring Sandy success in the secretarial field which she will enter upon graduating.

CAROL CHEZOSKY

Energetic is the best word to describe gay and active Carol. During her junior year Carol was selected as a regular cheerleader. She was president of the Girls' Leaders Club, an active member of the girls' basketball team, and a copywriter for the yearbook. She also wrote the Alumni Column for the Wah Hoo. In addition Carol was a very active participant in intramural sports. Her parts in the variety shows will be remembered by all of her friends and classmates. After graduation, Carol plans to enter college. She hopes to become a teacher of physical education.

GEORGE CHRISTOPHER

George, determined and energetic fullback, aided the Indian's football squad greatly in both his junior and senior years. During the 1961 season, he had the special distinction of being selected as Allegheny's Most Valuable Player. He was a member of the Conditioning Club, and also enjoyed participating in the Spanish Club. His favorite subjects were English and speech, and he was one of the first to be brave enough to sign up for the boys' cooking class. George's sense of humor and easy-going ways won him a lasting place in the hearts of his many friends.

MARK DRASKOVIC

Mark was a popular fellow in our class. His friendliness and sense of humor made him well known and well liked by everyone. A capable and active participant in all sports, Mark made a name for himself as a member of the varsity basketball team. He was one of the top scorers on the team during his three years at Allegheny. His other activities included playing on the baseball team, serving in Student Council where he held the office of Sergeant of Arms, and being vice-president of his homeroom. Mark would like to further his education at a small college.

June Hall of Fame

JEAN FLEMING

Jean's sparkling smile and warm personality will endear her in all our memories. Willingness to help others is another quality which distinguishes her. Her classmates showed their recognition of her leadership by electing her homeroom president. Her congenial manner and persuasiveness helped to make Jean successful as manager of the school store. Being a member of the Wahettes' drill team and the Girls' Leaders Club has kept Jean busy, but her name still appears on the honor roll frequently. With her wonderful personality, Jean is sure to succeed in all she plans.

DENNIS JACK

Witty "Dennie" will always be remembered for his wonderful sense of humor and funny jokes. As the vice-president of his homeroom, "Dennie" served as a representative in the Student Council. The senior class elected him as their vice-president, an office which he filled most ably. As a public service he was a United Fund Student Speaker. Since sports was a great interest to him, "Dennie" was a member of the football team, and the Conditioning Club. Last year's basketball team had him as its manager. Dennie's election to the Hall of Fame is no surprise to those who knew him.

DONALD R. NILSON

Character, service, leadership, and scholarship not only qualify Don for his membership in the National Honor Society, but also describe him perfectly. His biggest task was being editor of the Wah Hoo and he handled this job excellently. His many services to Allegheny included working on the yearbook staff, managing the swimming team, participating in the variety shows, and serving as president of his homeroom, and a member of Student Council. He distinguished himself in the Student United Nations and was honored with the position of Secretary General. Don intends to further his education, and we know he will continue to attain success in life.

CHARLENE AUDREY PFEIFFER

Lively "Char" was an all-round student at A. H. S. She devoted much time to many activities, including the Wahettes' drill team, Girls Leaders Club and the Red Cross Club. Her classmates displayed their faith in Charlene's dependability by electing her treasurer and then secretary of her homeroom. Participating in intramural sports gave "Char" a chance to develop and display her athletic ability. In spite of her many extracurricular activities, Charlene maintains good grades, listing Spanish and shorthand as her favorite subjects. Charlene will always be remembered for her warm, sincere personality and genuine friendliness.

June Hall of Fame

CHARLES PFEIFFER

"Chicky" is well known for his wonderful sense of humor and ability to get along with others. His willingness to be of assistance makes him a familiar figure in many school activities, including the Wah Hoo and yearbook staffs. In his junior year, Chicky became a member of the National Honor Society; and he was elected vice-president of the society. He was honored greatly by being chosen president of the senior class. Chicky's future holds the promise of a successful career as a civil engineer.

SANDRA REINER

As head cheerleader, Sandi does a very good job of cheering the team at pep assemblies and games. Her outgoing, friendly personality has won her many friends at Allegheny. Sandi proved her talent by dancing in Allegheny's variety shows. She was a member of the Social Dancing Club and sang in the Robed Choir. Holding a part-time job never interfered with her honor roll standing, and in 11A Sandi was honored by being chosen as a member of the National Honor Society. Outstanding in all ways, warm, and sincere, Sandi will never be forgotten.

MARTIN ROTH

Marty is certainly well deserving of selection for the Hall of Fame. His dependability and self-assurance showed itself again and again in the many offices he held, and also in his school work. He is president of the Student Council and of his homeroom. Well known for his musical talent, Marty plays the trombone in the orchestra and band, and also participates in the all-city orchestra. His acceptance into the National Honor Society is a result of his hard work and perseverance. Marty's future is sure to be as successful as his stay at Allegheny was.

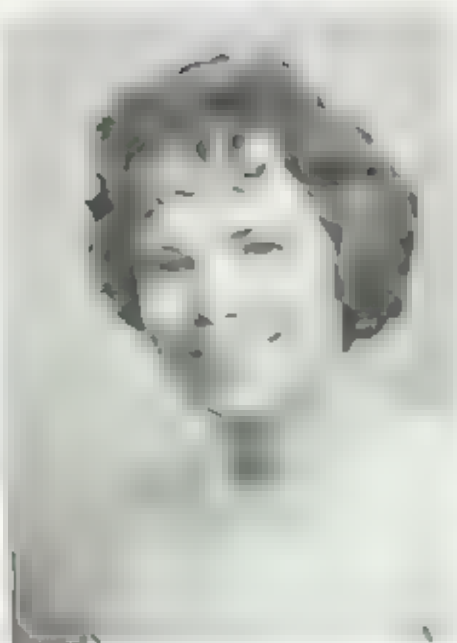

KATHRYN SCHIRRA

Pert and perky "Kathie" was the snoopng "Snooper" for the Wah Hoo and a copywriter for the yearbook. A high stepping majorette, she was co-head in her last semester. She was also a member of the Allegheny Choir. "Kathie" danced her way into everyone's heart as a yearly attraction in the variety show. Homeroom secretary and treasurer, she represented his class as a member of the Senior Prom committee. Due to high scholastic standing, "Kathie" received the honor of membership in the National Honor Society. Someone with such a vibrant smile and personality will never be forgotten.

JANET ELLEN SOJKA

Janet's sincerity and warmth have made many friends for her at Allegheny. She brought enthusiasm and good humor to many activities, including the Wah Hoo and yearbook staffs. Her marching and twirling ability won her the position of co-head majorette. When not participating in the variety and fashion shows, Janet acted as an Usherette. In spite of her many activities Janet kept her name on the honor roll. Her biggest thrill came when she was tapped for the National Honor Society. Janet is sure to make many friends wherever the future finds her.

NAOMI WALLACE

Always full of fun and happiness, "Toots" was very popular with her classmates. In her senior year she was tapped for membership in the National Honor Society because of her consistently high grades. An avid sports fan she participated in all intramural sports with great enthusiasm. Throughout her high school years, Toots has played the violin in the orchestra. She enjoys music, dancing, reading, and attending plays, all of which help make her well-rounded personality unforgettable. Her sparkling, ever-ready smile assures Toots of a future that will never be lonely.

ADELE BRENDA WARNICK

The warm and sincere personality of Brenda will long hold a place in the memories of her classmates and friends. Neat and attractive, she was quietly dependable. She was not so quiet, however, while participating in intramural sports or displaying her school spirit as co-head majorette. The many extra-curricular activities which kept her busy included an active part in all our variety shows and working on the Wah Hoo and yearbook staffs. In spite of such a full schedule, Brenda maintained a high scholastic rating and earned election to the National Honor Society. She would like to become an airline stewardess, and we wish her success in having this hope fulfilled.

THOMAS WESTMAN

Snapping the shutter, running around trying to get pictures for the yearbook and the Wah Hoo, always smiling; that was Tom. His homeroom selected him president, and he is also chairman of programs for the senior prom committee. Tom has a ready wit, but is extremely serious when necessary. Aside from participating in many activities in and out of school, and holding a part time job, Tom studied the most difficult course offered . . . automation. Personality and ambition such as Tom's assured him of a lasting place in the memories of his classmates and success in his future.

ACTIVITIES

Activities played an important role in the time we spent at Allegheny. No matter where a student's interests or abilities lie or what type of personality he possesses, he will surely find a situation suitable for him in the numerous extra-curricular activities offered. Our athletically inclined boys have a variety of sports from which to choose, including football, basketball, baseball, and swimming. For girls, there is their varsity basketball team and the many different games played in intra-mural contests, ranging from badminton to volleyball. The cheerleaders, majorettes, and the drill team are activities also open to girls.

If a student's abilities lie in the field of music, the orchestra, band, and choir are open to him. Social Dancing, History, Girls Leaders, Office Practice, and Visual Aids clubs are a few examples of the great variety of other clubs from which a student may choose. Clubs are provided to cover many interests and abilities.

The Wah Hoo and yearbook staffs offer capable students the chance to display their writing ability, or to work in the typing, art or business departments.

From this great variety, any student willing to devote some of his free time is able to find at least one activity that suits his interests and abilities.

Officers

The Student Council is the governing body of the school. Its members are representatives from each homeroom in Allegheny; thus all students are represented. Any subject the students would like to have considered can be brought up at the meetings which take place each Monday morning. On Tuesdays every homeroom has a meeting at which the activities of the Student Council are reported and discussed.

The officers of the Student Council are the President, Vice President, Secretary, Treasurer, and Sergeant-at-Arms. They are elected by the members and serve for one semester.

Various school activities are sponsored by Student Council, including the Good Will campaigns and the Student Council Project. This year the Council undertook a special Christmas project, the collection of nickels for crippled children. The Student Council also tries to solve such problems as student conduct and destruction of property.

Row 1: C. Pelos, N. Wallace, J. Sojka, J. Thompson. Row 2: M. Roth, M. Hammond, T. Kennedy, F. Sabolovic

Teachers, students and parents socialize at the National Honor Society tea.

The National Honor Society was organized to give proper recognition to students who have aided the school in promoting the four ideals of this society — service, leadership, scholarship, and character. To be elected as a member of this society is the highest honor bestowed upon a high school student, and it is one that will always be remembered and cherished.

Candidates are selected from 11A, 12B and 12A classes. The faculty then chooses those who have shown outstanding promise in the four ideals of the society. Because of these high ideals, only a limited number of students become members of the society.

After the students are secretly selected, they are tapped at one of the regular assemblies by the present members.

A few weeks later, they are formally inducted into the society. They are presented with the gold keystone and flaming torch emblem symbolizing their membership in the National Honor Society.

Wah Hoo

The Wah Hoo is produced by many separate staffs working on the various aspects of turning out a well-organized magazine. Yet no individual staff represents the Wah Hoo, for all are interdependent. It is teamwork and responsibility which give us this prize-winning publication.

The literary, sports, and news staffs, and the regular columns provide each student with information about his particular interest. The typing, advertising, circulation, and photography staffs are the unsung heroes who are always working to insure high quality in each issue.

The Wah Hoo is more than a school magazine, it is a tradition. The six issues published each year are awaited with enthusiasm by students and faculty alike. The Wah Hoo sets certain standards for Allegheny's student body. It represents the high ideals of our school.

Don Nilson gives his assistant editor, Gayle Haseman, a few helpful suggestions.

The yearbook staff has the task of laying out and writing the yearbook. Chris Lozos and Sandy Bakunas started a year ahead of time to plan the book, and the members of the staff work hard to make the yearbook a calendar of the school's activities. Careful planning and developing of the cover and division pages is the job of the art staff. The copywriters have the responsibility of doing the senior club and activities write ups. The advertising staff starts its rigid job of selling advertisements and boosters early in the year so that the yearbook can be printed. The finished product of the combined efforts of these students is a benefit and pleasure to all the students and faculty, and it is the only true memory book of the school year.

CAROL MAIHAN

CAROL CHEZOSKY

Our cheerleaders were the "backbone" of the school spirit. Whenever football and basketball seasons arrived, the cheerleaders were full of pep, vitality, and enthusiasm to help lead our school to victory. The girls not only cheered at the football and basketball games but also at the pep assemblies and parades. One of the proudest moments they experienced was to receive new uniforms, but the most familiar "garment" the cheerleaders wore was a smile. Their excellent routines and cheers were the products of polishing old cheers and practicing new ones. These girls were under the direction of Miss Kruman.

Majorettes

Hard work and enthusiasm were the foundations for the excellent performances of our majorettes. Long hours of practicing were necessary to perfect the difficult twirling and detailed footwork that made up the girls' routines. Our high-stepping majorettes marched at football games, parades, pep assemblies, and for various organizations in the Pittsburgh area. Their head was Eileen Sabolovic, and their co-heads were Janet Sojka and Brenda Warnick. Miss Galbraith, their sponsor, had a great deal to be proud of in our majorettes.

"We like Indians." was a favorite war cry of our drill team, the Wahettes. A good drill team must perform with utmost precision, and our Wahettes certainly met this requirement. A fascinating aspect of the Wahettes was that the girls made their own uniforms, and they certainly were beautiful. The Wahettes marched at pep assemblies, home football games, parades, and variety shows. Although the Wahettes are a relatively new group at Allegheny, they have established a wonderful tradition for future girls to continue. The girls were under the direction of Miss Galbraith.

Sponsored by Mr. Stewart, the service squad does its work in the library, main office, counselor's office and the halls. This activity is open to seniors one period a day. The service squad not only helps the school and faculty, but it builds character and increases responsibility.

Leadership was the most important element in being a member of Girls Leaders Club. Girls' Leaders stood for dependability, determination to strive forward, willingness to help others, and joining to work together as one. Sophomores, juniors and seniors comprised the membership of the club and to maintain the membership, a girl had to earn an "A" or "B" in physical education. Girls' Leaders trained girls to assist in certain activities of the physical education department such as the many intramural tournaments that were held for girls at Allegheny. This successful group was under the direction of Miss Kruman.

The girls Leaders Club carries on its induction program.

and Band

The orchestra and band, both under the direction of Mr. Phillips, added much to many of the activities that were held in the auditorium and on the football field. The orchestra has more than 50 members and is one of the largest and best that Allegheny has ever had. Along with participating in the assemblies, the orchestra plays an important role in the performances of our variety shows.

This year, the band was very pleased to receive their new uniforms. The members of the band always helped to make the half-time programs at football games more enjoyable. They are all waiting for the next football season so they can display their new uniforms.

Our musicians are constantly practicing for the regular events in school and for special events outside of school, such as the All-City Orchestra and Band.

Under Mr. Phillips' direction, the orchestra and band are always working to make our school programs more enjoyable.

The Robed Choir participates in many of our special programs and assemblies. At Christmas time, they lead the caroling in the halls and sing at the traditional Christmas assembly.

Miss Heberling is in charge of both the Choir class and the Choir Club. The members of the class and club with the strongest voices are chosen to make up the Robed Choir.

In school, the Robed Choir makes many of our programs more enjoyable. They also provide entertainment for others outside of the school by singing for special groups and organizations in the city.

School Store

Under a manager and assistant manager chosen by student council, the school store operates in room 327. Here, every morning before classes begin, students can purchase Allegheny pens, pencils, book covers, and sweat shirts. A variety of paper-bound books are also available.

Jeann Fleming and John DeTrude look over newly arrived books.

Clubs

Social Dancing

Every Friday students who enjoy advancing their skills in the social graces meet in the gym as members of the Social Dancing Club. In the time allotted they are "coached" by the sponsor, Miss O'Donnell, in various aspects of social life, such as dating and attending social gatherings. Besides tidbits of helpful information, the members are given the opportunity to dance with their chosen partners. Here, if it is necessary, pointers are given for further use to the boys and girls. It is the goal of this extracurricular activity to elevate the standard of social life at Allegheny, along with providing entertainment to the participating students.

Art and Stage Crew

Mr. Kerschbaumer sponsors both the Art Club and the Stage Crew. The Art Club, which meets every Monday morning, is open to all talented art students who have art as a class. They make the backdrops for the variety shows and the dance posters. The Stage Crew is always available to set up the stage and help see that our assemblies run smoothly.

Bridge

Bridge Club is open to any student who is interested in the game of bridge. Members are given the opportunity to learn the different conventions and systems used by bridge players. Each member has his own deck of cards with which he practices. Meetings are held each Monday morning; and the club's sponsor, Miss Cohen, is well-qualified for her position, as she has played tournament bridge.

Industrial Arts

A new club got off to a successful start at Allegheny this semester. The Industrial Arts Club was organized primarily for the benefit of senior boys who are contemplating technical high school training. The members are boys who would like to enter such technical fields as electronics, drafting, or automation. This club prepares the boys for additional technical training and education.

Junior Typing

The Junior Typewriting Club was sponsored by Miss Griffiths. It was organized to help Type 1 students in getting the extra practice that would aid them in their class work.

Clubs

Office Practice

At 9:00 every Monday morning this club meets. Doing work to assist the faculty, as well as becoming familiar with the office machines available, are the main purposes of this club. Mr. Kellams, the club sponsor, gives each member valuable information and guidance for improvement and further knowledge in this field making the work they turn out for the teachers continually better.

Discussion

This newly formed club, under the guidance of Mr. Kellams, enables its members to discuss on a free and friendly basis, topics of general interest. At each meeting of this Friday club, students give the pro and con aspects of their topic. Immediately following this debate, the topic is open for general discussion, permitting every member to voice his own opinion.

History

The main purpose of the History Club is to aid interested students in enjoying the study of history. Each member is in charge of one meeting, during which he presents a well prepared program. Besides history, the members discuss current events and controversial subjects.

Math

The Math Club, whose sponsor is Mr. Leifer, is open to any student who is interested in math and wishes to further his understanding of the subject. There are now two math clubs at Allegheny; one meeting Friday morning, and the other meeting after school. The club that meets after school, the Mu Alpha Theta, is part of a nationally known organization; and Allegheny is one of the few schools in the city that has obtained a charter for such a club.

Swimming

At nine o'clock every Friday morning, Allegheny High School's pool is occupied by the members of the new swimming club. Mr. Kerschbaumer, director of this club, assists the boys in the fundamentals of swimming. They are also given helpful pointers and instructions so that they can improve their swimming ability.

Junior Red Cross

The Junior Red Cross Club, financed by the Red Cross Chapter, was under the direction of Miss Griffiths. The members of this club worked diligently through the year making toys for Children's Hospital, Easter baskets, get-well cards, favors, and valentines for various charitable organizations. The main purpose of this club is to help people and make them happy.

UNDERCLASSMEN

The majority of our students at Allegheny are sophomores and juniors. Although the underclassmen all look forward to the time when they will become seniors, they participate in a number of activities that will long remain in their memories. At the beginning of the sophomore year, the 10B assembly is held to acquaint the new pupils with the various procedures of the school. During the same month, the "Get Acquainted Dance" is held, enabling the 10B's to meet many of their fellow students. The underclassmen take part in the Student Council and clubs, and they participate in many of our other activities.

In the junior year, two of their most memorable events occur; the receiving of their class rings and the Junior Prom. Each semester the underclassmen take on new responsibilities and gain more privileges, and soon they will be the leaders of the school.

SPORTS

Both boys and girls at Allegheny had a wide variety of sports from which to choose. Keeping students physically fit and teaching them sportsmanship were the prime goals of the physical education classes; but for the students who showed special ability, there were many opportunities to participate in both intra- and inter-mural sports.

Football was usually on the top of the list for boys, but swimming, basketball, and baseball were also very popular. Boys not actually participating on the teams had a chance to act as managers or to assist the teams in other ways. The boys put in long hours of practice after school, which better enabled them to work together as a team.

Our athletically inclined girls were not left out of the sports picture. Their varsity basketball team gave the girls a chance to learn good sportsmanship by competing against girls from other schools. Although this was their only varsity team, other sports were played in intra-mural tournaments.

Even though it was not possible for everyone to play on a team, our school spirit was displayed by the many students who attended the games to encourage our teams; and the variety of sports offered helped to provide a well-rounded school life for our students.

Andy Metro

Our Indians both started and ended the 1961 season with some difficulty. The lone highspot of the season was our 20-12 win over our traditional rival, Oliver. From the start of the season to the finish, Allegheny suffered one crushing defeat after another. In addition to these defeats, the ranks of the red and blue were constantly being depleted because of numerous injuries to key players. This, and our lack of a supply of seasoned, experienced players, contributed to our season record of 1-7-0. However, our boys fought each game ruggedly and with spirit, and every Alleghenian should be extremely proud of their effort.

Allegheny sweeps section division.

Many thrilling moments of this year's basketball contests will remain in the minds of all who faithfully followed our team through its 17-win and 1-loss season. In both exhibition and league games, Allegheny triumphed almost undefeated. Outstanding work on the part of the team and coach brought about the successful season. Sparked by the enthusiasm of the student body, Allegheny went all the way. Defeating each opponent on almost every encounter, our team received the distinction of being section champs.

With the spirit that is Allegheny, the boys make preparation for the city duel with Fifth Avenue High School. We can be sure that with the support of the school, Allegheny will make a city showing to be proud of.

Swimming

If you were to ask any swimming team member if he thought we had a successful season, you would receive a definite "yes." Although a 5-win, 4-loss season may not seem extremely impressive, the fact that in one year Allegheny defeated not only one but both of its traditional rivals is truly an accomplishment. We defeated Perry for only the second time in the past few decades and Oliver not once since 1947. Since Oliver, Perry and Allegheny are the only Section Two league schools in the North Side area, Allegheny reigns for the first time in decades as North Side champs. Yes, ask any team member; it was great beating Perry and even better beating Oliver.

Baseball

"A ball of fire" is the phrase that can best describe the Allegheny nine at the start of baseball season last spring. Despite a 4-1 loss to Perry, the Indians proceeded to conquer the league leading Langley Mustangs, Oliver, Allegheny Vocational, and South. We were somewhat set back by an exhibition loss of 7-3 to Peabody, but at the mid-season were in a three way tie for first place. Then came two consecutive 3-2 heartbreaking losses to South Hills and a surprise defeat by South which put us out of the running. From there on until the end of the season, Allegheny proceeded to win every game, ending the season with a 8-4 record and a fourth place berth.

Allegheny's physical education program offers a variety of sports for girls. Volleyball, deck tennis, badminton, and basketball are taught to the girls in gym classes; and tournaments are played between student teams. Girls not playing in the tournaments may also participate by acting as time keepers, scorers, or referees.

Basketball has the majority of participants. For this reason, a varsity team was organized to give girls a chance to exhibit their talents and sportsmanship in competition with other schools.

In addition to these sports, swimming, tennis, softball, soccer, and a number of others are taught and played during physical education classes.

PORTRA

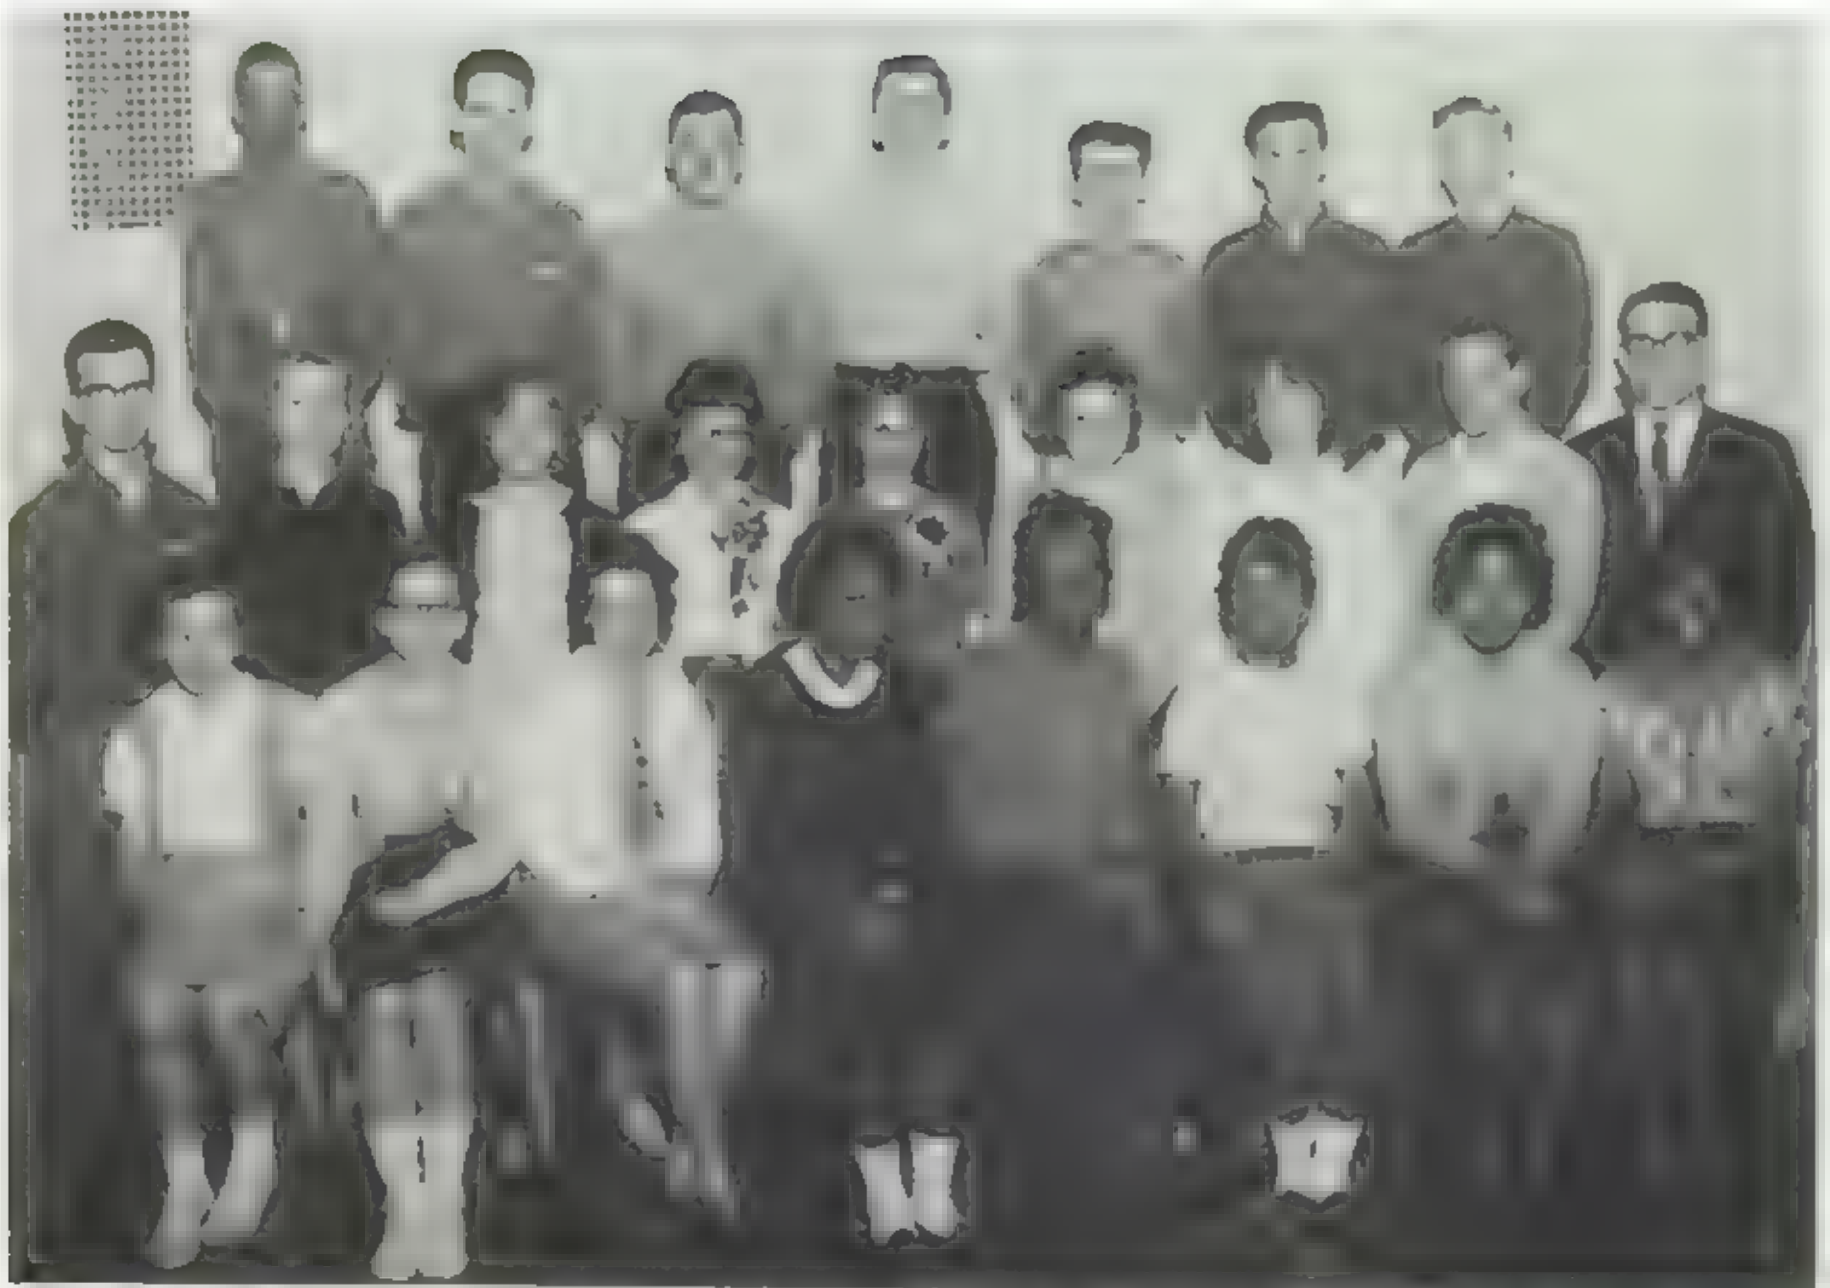

Advertising plays an important part in the production of a yearbook. The boosters and advertisements sold to our families, friends and to business patrons add a great deal to the financial support of this annual record of school activities.

Businessmen purchasing ads in a yearbook find that it is a very good method of long-range advertising. Each yearbook is looked at many times by many different people, and the advertisements are kept in circulation for a long time.

Families and friends who buy boosters also contribute much in enabling our yearbook to be published.
